

Team Science ‘Building your Research Network’ - 30 September 2019, 12:30-15:00, Jean McFarlane Building

Learning outcomes will include:

- The importance of Team Science;
- Awareness and skills through interactive activities and working in groups;
- Best practice and real-time examples of Team Science in Action for Cancer and Informatics;
- Networking skills and resources to implement Team Science within your networks.

Event programme

12:30-13:00	Lunch
13:00-13.15	Welcome to event and the importance of Team Science
13.15-13.45	What is network building and how can you implement?
13.45-14.00	How large is your network now?
14.00-14.15	Team Science in Action for Cancer
14.15-14.45	Interactive activity
14.45-15.00	Round up and next steps

Event details

Venue: G306B, The Jean McFarlane Building, The University of Manchester, M13 9PY

Audience: Staff and students engaged in or supporting all P4 medicine research affiliated with the BRC, CRF, The University of Manchester and/or Health Innovation Manchester.

Registration: brcteamscience.eventbrite.co.uk

Contact: jane.crosbie@manchester.ac.uk / +44 (0)161 275 5542